ABOUT BIDPOINTER

Bidpointer is for sellers who want to keep the process in-house and want to sell their own or their customer's goods from their own location or their customer's locations when it suits them, without waiting for an auction that may not take place for several months. The selling party can also make the sale directly to the buyer, without an intermediary, so that everything can be arranged inexpensively. Payments are also faster because they can be transferred directly between buyer and seller, without a middleman. The team behind Bidpointer has years of auction experience, which benefits you as the user.

MANAGE AUCTIONS IN-HOUSE

Have you always wanted to manage the auction yourself? This is now possible on the Bidpointer platform. You determine the auction process yourself.

MANAGE INVOICING YOURSELF
